City Wushu Coach to train State Junior team

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (BS)- U. Darshan from the city has been appointed as a coach of Karnataka State Junior Wushu team that is participating in the 22nd Junior National Wushu Championship organised by Bihar Wushu Association under the auspices of Wushu Association of India, from Aug. 6 to 11 at Pataliputra Indoor Stadium, Patna, Bihar.

U. Darshan

Darshan has completed his Diploma in Sports Coaching in Wushu (Martial Arts) with All India Rank-2 from Netaji Subhas National Institute of Sports (NSNIS), Patiala, an academic wing of Sports Authority of India (SAI). He also holds the distinction of being the first person from Karnataka to complete one year diploma in NSNIS in Wushu.

Darshan has to his credit 10 gold medals in State-level tournaments, one national level medal by qualifying to the quarter-finals for four times. He has also won two medals at international-level tournaments.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Judicious management of finances is a basic requirement for the development and health of the University. Yet, most Vice-Chancellors (VCs) do not diligently engage themselves in fiscal management; they leave it to subordinate officials who are not necessarily visionaries, far-sighted, or concerned about the long-term welfare of the institution. Their business is to resolve routine issues.

The annual budget plans are very important, as they not only reveal the current choices made but also reflect on how they are likely to affect the future of the institution. Hence, a VC with vision, concern and commitment will provide leadership in preparing annual budgets with innovative ideas. In doing so, routine work becomes more meaningful and delightful, allowing the undertaking of needed developmental work towards fulfilling the Varsity's mission.

Judicious and vigilant management of finances is crucial for State Universities, which perennially suffer from a crunch of funds. The Universities must devise their own ways of fiscal management that are region-and institution-specific. Fiscal management is an art and it must be addressed scientifically. Likewise, the prevention of leakages is equally important. Squandering taxpayers' money is unpardonable.

Erring institutions and officials must be dealt with iron hand. In several Universities, including our State University, erring VCs are found; inquiries are held, but reports are archived and no action is taken.

Leniency not only promotes mismanagement but also emboldens others to indulge in malpractices in all walks of life! Lastly, the State Governments must also apprehend their own accountability in the appointment of VCs and the nomination of Syndicate and Academic Council Members and refrain from influencing Universities for gratuitous favours.

Strange structures made by strong winds

Chicago: Every now and then nature keeps enthralling people through strange weather phenomena. Something similar recently happened near Lake Michigan in America.

Fast winds created strange structures along Lake Michigan recently. Landscape and nature photographer Joshua Nowicki captured these delicate formations and shared them on social media. Soon the pictures went viral as people began speculating about how they were created. Many jokingly attributed the creation to aliens. Some people called them "chess pieces made of sand" or "sand hoodoos".

Tourists flock to zoo to see 'human-like' bear

Beijing: Visitors are thronging a zoo in eastern China's Zhejiang province after a video of one of its bears went viral with some netizens suggesting she looked so human that she might be a staff member in a bear suit, local media reported on Tuesday.

Visitor numbers at Hangzhou Zoo have gone up by 30 percent to around 20,000 a day since a video of the Malayan Sun bear, named Angela, became a trending topic on Chinese social media over the weekend.

"After seeing this bear standing up on the internet, I wanted to see how it looks in real life, so I came here," said a man surnamed You, who said he had only half-believed the video he saw online.

In the widely shared video posted last Thursday, the Sun bear can be seen standing on its hind legs and stretching its neck out as it faces visitors watching from outside its enclosure, before sitting back down. Meanwhile, the Zoo authorities have denied allegations that it is a human in bear costume.

Vande Bharat and Shatabdi Trains: A Suggestion

Sir,

Vande Bharat and Shatabdi are very convenient trains for commuters travelling to Bengaluru and Chennai. They are punctual and well-maintained.

However, a minor adjustment in the time-table of these trains can make them more passenger-friendly. As of now, both the trains do not run on Wednesdays from Mysuru.

Instead of not running both trains on the same day (Wednesday), it would be better if they are not run on different days. Say, Vande Bharat is not run on Wednesday and Shatabdi is not run on Thursday.

This would help commuters have an option to use one of these trains everyday. I request the Railway authorities concerned to look into this suggestion and implement if feasible.

Asphalting of Bannimantap Jodi Thenginamara Road begins

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (RK&DM)- Following numerous complaints of poor state of Jodi Thenginamara Road in Bannimantap that connects Highway Circle with Sreenivasa Talkies, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) authorities have taken up asphalting of the road, much to the relief of motorists.

The MCC has launched the asphalting works at an estimated cost of Rs. 12 lakh. The MCC has planned to take up further development of the road at an estimated cost of Rs. 50 lakh in the second phase.

According to Mayor Shivakumar, the Jodi Thenginamara road was earlier widened by MUDA on the stretch from Highway circle to JSS Medical college women's Hostel. But due to heavy traffic movement, the road turned out into poor shape with innumerable potholes. The road continued to be in a poor state for years together, with motorists cursing the authorities for their negligence.

Taking note of the poor state of the road, the MCC has launched asphalting works out of its own grants, Shivakumar said adding that tenders have been invited for taking up further development of the road in the second phase at a cost of Rs. 50 lakh.

LED screens causing accidents in city will be removed: Mayor

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (RK&BS)- Mayor Shivakumar has announced that LED advertisement screens erected in various parts of the city that are causing accidents, with its strong ray of light blocking the vision of motorists during night, will be removed soon.

Mayor Shivakumar said "At some places LED screens are the reason behind accidents. In the wake of complaints related to sharp ray of light blinding the vehicle drivers, inspection was conducted along with officers. It came to light that the advertisements shown on LED screens installed at circles and junctions divert the attention of vehicle drivers resulting in accidents. It will also affect the eyes of the viewers."

According to Mayor Shivakumar, the LED screens installed at Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) main Office premises on New Sayyaji Rao Road, near Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple, Mysore Palace North Gate at Chamaraja Wadiyar Circle, Ramaswamy Circle, Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Circle (Hardinge Circle), Ramaswamy Circle, Vontikoppal Venkateshwara Swamy Temple junction on KRS Road, Dasappa Circle, Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) premises on Hunsur Road, St. Joseph's School premises, All India Institute of Speech and Hearing (AIISH) premises on Bogadi Road along with several other circles and junctions in the city with heavy traffic density were found to be proving severe inconvenience to public.

Though the Government Offices, private educational institutions, public sector offices coming under Central Government have installed LED screens facing the junctions, they are coming in the way of smooth flow of traffic.

Shortly, notice will be served to such offices to remove the screens on their own. If they won't initiate action, MCC will remove them, the Mayor said.

Dasara elephant team passes firecracker test

Final list of participating pachyderms only after results of pregnancy test

The probable Dasara elephants stay calm during the firecracker test at Dubare Elephant Camp in Kodagu.

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, Aug. 5- Preparations for the Gajapayana (elephant march) on Sept. 1 for the Dasara festivities in Mysuru have already commenced. Before finalising the list of elephants participating in the festival, the identified elephants have undergone acclimatisation tests with firecrackers to prevent any fearful reactions during the event's hustle and bustle.

All the elephants scheduled to participate in the 2023 festivities have successfully passed the firecracker test. Elephants play a vital role in the success of the Dasara celebrations and the tradition of bringing elephants from various Elephant Camps to Mysuru city for training has been ongoing since decades.

However, with the number of experienced elephants declining, the Forest De-partment has begun the process of taming new elephants capable of carrying the Golden Howdah for the next 5 to 10 years.

One of the senior elephants, Captain Abhimanyu, who is currently 57 years old, will retire in three more years, necessitating the training of new elephants for this important role. As a result, new elephants will be introduced into the Dasara yard this time, forming a new team when combined with the elephants that arrived last year. To ensure their successful participation, various training sessions are being conducted at the camps.

The training aims to ensure that the new elephants along with the experienced ones are not frightened by the sounds of vehicles, sirens and explosives during their stay in the city.

The firecracker test was conducted at Mathigodu and Dubare Elephant Camps, where the elephants displayed commendable behaviour, with only some minor anxiety shown by the new elephants.

Burden-carrying capability

The Forest Department is also taking into consideration the burden-carrying capability of the elephants. While many elephants return to the camps after the festival without any training, only a few, like howdah carrier Captain Abhimanyu and some others are utilised in forest operations that involve tasks like tiger capture and elephant and tiger driving operations, where they are equipped with a cushion on their backs. The rest of the elephants are not accustomed to carrying any burden on their backs.

To address this, the Forest Department plans to train the elephants to walk with weight on their backs, so they are better prepared for their role in the Jumboo Savari procession.

As the festival approaches, the final selection process is underway.

A team led by Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF), Mysuru Wildlife Division Saurabh Kumar inspected eight elephants at the Dubare Camp. Inspections of elephants will continue in the coming week at various camps including Dodda Harave Camp, Balle Camp, and Rampura Camp. The final list of elephants is expected to be ready by the second or third week of August.

Pregnancy test results awaited

This year, the Forest Department has taken stringent measures to avoid unexpected incidents like last year's, where Lakshmi, a female elephant, gave birth unexpectedly inside the Mysore Palace.

As a result, the Department is focusing on the health of female elephants and taking significant steps to ensure their well-being and prevent any surprises during the festival.

After the incident with Lakshmi, the Forest Department faced criticism from animal rights activists, who questioned the Department for making Lakshmi go through rigorous training without knowing she was pregnant, accusing them of being careless.

To avoid such situations, this year's elephant selection process is different. The Forest Department is prioritising the elephants' health by conducting blood, urine and pregnancy tests. In the past, it was not a standard practice to conduct such tests, leading to uncertainties about the pregnancy status of some female elephants.

By gathering comprehensive health information about the elephants, the Forest Department aims to avoid any complications during the festival and ensure a safe and successful event. The blood and urine samples of six identified females have been sent to a laboratory in New Delhi for testing and the results are expected to arrive within 2-3 days, slightly delaying the selection process.

Heritage Walks to be a year-round event

The Heritage Walk covered several iconic structures, including Rangacharlu Town Hall, Silver Jubilee Clock Tower, Chamaraja Circle, Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple, Palace North Gate, K.R. Circle, Dufferin Clock Tower, Sayyaji Rao Road, Devaraja Market, K.R. Hospital, Govt. Ayurveda College and CAVA building. The walk concluded at Town Hall via Old Bank Road, taking approximately one-and-a-half hours to complete.

Commissioner of the Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage, A. Devaraju, shared that previously, Heritage Walks were organised upon request from tourists, educational institutions, Government Departments and trainees attending the Administrative Training Institute (ATI) and for some days during the Dasara festival.

Now, the Department has decided to make it a regular affair, occurring every first Saturday of the month, year-round. Based on demand and popularity, the frequency of these walks may increase in the future.

Trained resource persons and experts from the District Heritage Conservation Committee will act as guides for the Heritage Walks. The Department has already planned several heritage routes and intends to cover one route at a time on a rotational basis. To promote awareness among tourists and encourage them to explore Mysuru's rich heritage, brochures and literature about the walks will be distributed to hotels in the city.

Despite Mysuru boasting over 500 heritage structures of architectural significance, only around 130 are officially recognised. The concept of Heritage Walk was first introduced during Dasara in 2004 and now, it is set to become a regular and engaging activity for all heritage enthusiasts.

CPC Polytechnic students come up with urban mobility solution

FWD-E-TRIKE addresses challenges of traffic snarls, air pollution, limited-time parking spaces

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (BCT)- In a world where sustainable transportation is gaining increasing importance, the FWD-E-TRIKE project of students of CPC Polytechnic in city emerges as a beacon of hope for urban mobility.

Developed by a team of forward-thinking engineers, this ground-breaking electric trike is poised to revolutionise the way we commute in our cities while prioritising environmental consciousness.

The project is spearheaded by four talented members: B.R. Bharath, S. Chethan Kumar, Dharmesha and Mohammed Kaif Kounain, all students of Government CPC Polytechnic, specialising in the automobile branch.

The FWD-E-TRIKE (FWD stands for Front Wheel Drive) represents a bold step towards a greener future, effectively addressing the challenges of traffic congestion, air pollution, and limited-time parking spaces in urban areas. Its sleek design and electric motor offer a compact and efficient solution for navigating through crowded city landscapes.

The heart of the FWD-E-TRIKE is its advanced electric motor, which emits zero tailpipe emissions, making it an environmentally friendly choice. The project was successfully completed within a budget of Rs. 30,000, demonstrating its cost-effectiveness.

By opting for this electric trike, users not only help combat air pollution but also contribute to reducing carbon footprints, aligning with global efforts to combat climate change. This compact and nimble vehicle efficiently manoeuvres through congested city streets, providing a practical and eco-friendly means of transportation for urban dwellers.

One of the key highlights of the FWD-E-TRIKE project is its ingenious use of existing garage components, showcasing a cost-effective and practical approach to developing sustainable transportation options.

The re-purposed chassis not only reduces manufacturing costs but also minimises waste by giving new life to materials that would have otherwise been discarded. This approach aligns perfectly with the principles of the circular economy, reinforcing the project's strong commitment to environmental consciousness.

The project is an example of innovation and sustainable engineering, offering a promising solution to the challenges posed by traditional urban commuting. With its eco-friendly design and emphasis on re-purposing materials, this electric trike paves the way towards a greener and more efficient future for urban mobility.

Event on food, nutrition held at Yuvaraja's College

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (BCT)- The Department of Food Science and Nutrition at Yuvaraja's College, Mysuru, had recently organised a programme to commemorate 'Breastfeeding Week', 'Nutrition Month' and 'Vidhaayam'. The event took place at Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar Auditorium of the College.

The event aimed to raise awareness about nutrition, health and proper feeding practices among parents in society. Prof. T.R. Maruthi, Dean of the Faculty of Law, Professor of the Department of Law and Director of the School of Law at the University of Mysore, was the chief guest.

During his speech, Prof. Maruthi shared his insights on various aspects of life, including law, humanity and sustainability in food production to align with the Sustainable Developmental Goals (SDGs) of the United Nations. He discussed the role of the World Trade Organisation (WTO), the Right to Food, the Food Security Act, and the significance of mother and child health.

Emphasising the importance of nutrition in daily life, he highlighted that breast milk is not only a nutritious food for babies but also a symbol of a mother's affection.

The programme also included 'Vidhaayam,' dedicated to bidding farewell to the outgoing under-graduate and post-graduate students of the Department of Food Science and Nutrition. Prof. Maruthi motivated the students by drawing inspiration from the epics of Ramayana and Mahabharata, encouraging them to exhibit determination and achieve success in their lives.

The event featured a vibrant cultural performance by junior students from the Department, adding colours and joy to the occasion. Dr. R. Shekara Naik, Professor and HoD presided over the event and all faculties from the Department and students were present.

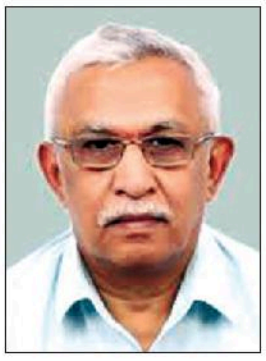
107th Foundation Day Celebrations

University of Mysore: Today!

He completed his Graduation, Post-Graduation and Research degree from the University of Mysore (UoM). He is the product of the Department of Zoology, Manasagangothri. As a faculty, he had an opportunity to serve the Department for over three decades (1975-2008). After serving as VC of Bangalore University (2006-2008), he was appointed as Director, National Assessment and Accreditation Council NAAC (2008-2013). Subsequently, he was a Visiting Professor at Indian Institute of Science (2013-2018), Bangalore.



Prof. H.A. Ranganath

At present, he is the Chairman of Board of Governors of IIIT Kurnool and also Visiting Faculty at Centre for Human Genetics, Bangalore. Even now he frequently visits his Alma Mater – the Department of Zoology at Manasagangothri – to deliver lectures.

The Foundation Day of UoM was celebrated on July 27, 2023. Here we publish a write-up by the distinguished alumnus Prof. H.A. Ranganath, who takes us down the memory lane of the University that was and that it is now. – Ed

By Prof. H.A. Ranganath

The University of Mysore was established on July 27, 1916. It is the sixth oldest in the country and the first in Karnataka. It was founded by Maharaja of erstwhile Princely State of Mysore His Highness Sri Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar and the then Diwan Sir M. Visvesvaraya. The city of Mysuru is not only the cultural centre of Karnataka known for Palaces, temples and gardens but also for many leading educational institutions of all levels — Kindergarten to Universities as well as Research Centres.

The 107th Foundation Day of the University was celebrated on July 27, 2023. It was an occasion for introspection. One has to look into whether the hopes and aspirations of the Founding Fathers as well as the visionaries who guided growth and evolution of the University have been met/achieved.

MULTI-DISCIPLINARY VARSITY

The University of Mysore has a rich glorious past. It was one of the best multi-disciplinary Universities with Departments in Languages, Literature, Sanskrit, Translation, Music, Philosophy, Indology, Art, Dance, Theatre, Education, Mathematics, Statistics, Pure and Applied Sciences, Humanities and Social Sciences, Economics, Journalism, Law, Sports, Health Sciences and Engineering and Technology.

The multi-disciplinary character of the University suffered when the faculties of Medicine and Engineering were usurped by the policy of the then Government, to establish State-wide mono-discipline Universities such as Health Sciences (Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences - RGUHS) and Technology University (Visvesvaraya Technological University - VTU) respectively.

Of course, after realising the importance of multi-disciplinary Universities, policies are in place to promote all disciplines in a University, as a result of which University of Mysore has started School of Engineering Sciences.

As on today, there are over 160 programmes spread across different Departments, with both traditional as well as contemporary areas of study. Many Departments had National and International recognitions, collaborative research, National and International Central facilities, Advance Research Centres and received grants from multiple funding agencies. The campus is (was) known for its Academic, Physical, Administration, Infrastructural and Moral ambience. The campus is (was) a Forum for free thought, Community of scholars and it was a Place of happenings.

TREND-SETTER

It was the first University in the State during 2000 to get Accreditation by National Assessment & Accreditation Council (NAAC) and this was followed by three more cycles of accreditation. University undertook an extensive 'Academic Administrative Audit (AAA),' first-of-its-kind in the State, by a committee of excellent academics of the country. This elaborate audit was over a period of 3 months. Recognised by Government of India as an "Institution of Excellence (IOE)" with a grant of Rs. 100 crore (in 2008), University with Potential for Excellence (UPE) in 2009 by UGC with a grant of Rs. 50 crore in 2012, Centre with Potential for Excellence in Particular Area (CPEPA) and was awarded grant of Rs. 9.5 crore, identified as one of the top 20 Universities in Scientific Publications and was awarded Rs. 9 crore under PURSE Scheme and renewed for 2nd Phase in 2016 awarded Rs. 8.5 crore and Identified by Government of Karnataka (2009) as Innovation University.

These success stories are because of visionary leadership and rich contributions from dedicated Faculty of the University.

CURRENT STATUS

While the institutional memory is worth recapitulating, the present scenario is disappointing. Of many reasons, one of the important factors is Faculty posts in the Post-Graduate (PG) Departments. There are over 410 sanctioned posts, of which 269 (67%) are vacant for different length of periods. Particularly, of 71 sanctioned posts of Professors, 66 are vacant!

Similarly in the categories of Associate Professors and Assistant Professors, the vacancies are 87 and 116 respectively. The posts through merit promotions and career advance promotions are for the existing faculty and are not against sanctioned posts. There are a few new PG programmes without any sanctioned teaching posts. The Departments and the disciplines on the campus have grown and evolved over the last six decades with the contributions of faculty.

The impact of non-filling up of the vacancies on the academic fabric of the University is huge. Yet another dimension of this is the absence of the senior researchers with vast experience to lead research groups and take it to the next level. Since critical mass of faculty are not available in the Departments, they are not eligible to apply for grants. The number of individual as well as collaborative research projects funded by National and International bodies is almost gone.

In a way this has caused irreparable damage on the sustenance of quality teaching and advancement of research. The results of accreditation by NAAC as well as of NIRF rankings reflect the present status of the University. Over and above these constraints, as of now, the University is without even an in-charge Vice-Chancellor (VC)!

The situation of other Universities in the State may not be different from the picture of University of Mysore.

LESSONS LEARNT

In the light of the above narration, the proposed State Education Policy has to address the following issues in the interest of students of public-funded Universities:

1) To discontinue the splitting up of parent Universities to establish more number of smaller Universities as this has been shown to be counter-productive.

2) For time being, moratorium on starting new Universities. 3) Strengthening of the existing public-funded Universities — particularly the younger ones, with grants to develop infrastructure, to start inter-disciplinary courses with additional faculty positions.

4) Administrative jurisdiction of a University to be limited to affiliation and examination purposes and not for admission of students to PG programmes. The PG admission may be facilitated through 'Common Entrance Test' for all graduates of different Universities and this will promote 'Mobility of Students.'

5) Since infrastructure and human resource (expertise) varies among Varsities and also non-availability of specialised innovative courses, mobility of students may be encouraged to take courses in other Varsities — this may to certain extent address the rural versus urban divide of institutions. 6) There has to be a definite succession time-bound plan for filling up faculty posts.

7) To adapt UGC's proposal to appoint 'Professors of Practice' from industries and other domains for short periods to enrich the expertise on the campus. This will augment the faculty resources in institutions. Also it will promote University-Industry linkages.

8) To establish State Research Commission to provide research grants to Varsities and Colleges. 9) Introduce 'Chief Minister Post-Doctoral Fellowships and also Junior & Senior Research Fellowships' in Varsities.

10) Accountability of Search Committee constituted to suggest a panel of three names to select VCs.

11) Karnataka State Higher Education Council is in existence since 2009. During these 14 years, the sphere of Higher Education has undergone sea change both at National and International levels. It is time to review the performance of the Council and to re-visit its mandate, vision and mission.

12) The demography of Karnataka State Universities is extremely diverse. Some of which are still born, a few are just delivered and others of different ages extending up to 107 years. These institutions have different challenges and constraints. Periodical health check-ups of these institutions are required to diagnose age specific problems and to prescribe appropriate remedial measures akin to human health care.

State Universities and its Colleges are the backbone of Indian Higher Education System. The backbone has to be strengthened to take care of students' requirements.

Debris on Ring Road median poses threat to drivers

Unabated dumping of construction waste like bricks, pieces of concrete structures among others noticed near tyre factory

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (SBD&BS)- Construction debris that were earlier dumped on the either side of Outer-Ring Road (ORR) in city, are now being dumped on the medians of the ORR.

The case in point is the median near J.K. Tyres plant, where the remnants of bricks, concrete structures and waste-filled plastic sacks are dumped, which have spilled over on the road, coming in the smooth way of traffic, triggering the possibilities of accidents involving two-wheeler riders.

The vehicles move at enormous speed on ORR, that is mostly used by factory workers riding two-wheelers daily towards their work places at Hebbal and Koorgalli Industrial Areas. As there is a slope where the brick and concrete pieces have spilled on the road, it will not come to the notice of two-wheeler riders instantly. If the vehicles move on such pieces, the vehicle riders may lose balance and fall off the vehicle or they may crash into another vehicle in their bid to avoid riding over the debris. If the debris is not cleared at the earliest, it will definitely cause accidents and the possibilities of fatal or non- fatal accidents are more, fear the general public.

Such acts are going on unabated and remains impossible to stop. It is indeed a mischievous act that the construction waste is dumped on the medians of the road posing a threat to the life of public. Such acts can be of evil minded people and the debris may have been dumped here in a goods auto. Be it anybody, such people should be traced and action be initiated. Or else, the waste may spread all over the medians on the ORR.

The construction debris can be seen dumped across the city with the increase in construction and renovation works. If the debris is of smaller quantity, it will be dumped on any road side nearby. If the debris is of a huge quantity, it will be dumped at those places, which are less frequented by the people. The uncontrolled dumping of construction debris is going on, in the first main of Vijayanagar 1st stage, with the similar scene witnessed near Bogadi and KRS Roads among several other places.

Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has identified an exclusive place for building a construction debris recycling plant at Hanchya-Sathagalli, with a warning to penalise the offenders, besides booking a criminal case against them. However, the people care a hoot and it is evident with the act of dumping construction debris on the medians of ORR.

Earlier, such acts of dumping waste were witnessed on the road side in the city, marring the visual beauty. Now, such erroneous act has spread to ORR posing a threat to the life of two-wheeler riders. If the MCC authorities or National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) custodians of ORR won't wake up to the gravity of the situation, they will be held responsible for any mishaps.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha should take a serious look into this menace, urge the concerned citizens.

He was speaking after inaugurating 'Karnataka Skill Connect -2023' conference organised by the Department of Skill Development, Entrepreneurship and Livelihood, in association with Karnataka Skill Development Corporation, at a private Hotel in Nazarbad here yesterday.

Stressing on the need for preparing the youth to meet the modern day job requirements, the DC said that as employers look for most suitable candidates, the job aspirants should have acquired some level of skills.

Maintaining that there is a good industrial climate in Mysuru with many industries coming up in the city, the DC said that youths need to have skills for finding employment in industries. There should be acquisition and updation of skills in keeping with the needs of the times, he added.

Noting that many people are finding it difficult to get jobs due to language problem, Dr. Rajendra said, as such, one must also possess communication skills. Stressing on the need for learning English and other languages, he said programmes like 'Skill Connect' will be a lot of help in this regard.

Beauticians encouraged to enrol in district association

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (GA&TRR) National President of All India Hair and Beauty Association (AIHBA) Dr. Sangeeta Chauhan has appealed beauticians to become members of Mysuru district unit of AIHBA. She made this appeal while speaking to press persons at Pathrakartara Bhavan here yesterday.

At the press conference Dr. Sangeeta Chauhan said that she is on a tour of India and AIBHA had organised a special seminar for beauticians in Mysuru on Aug. 3 to enlighten them more about hair, spa and colours and the seminar has elicited good response.

But there is still more to know about the use of new technologies and products in our field, she added.

Stating that she is touring the country to understand the problems of beauticians and highlight them at the national level, the AIHBA National President said that there is a shortage of members everywhere in the country and that has made it difficult to raise their issues.

"If more beauticians become members of the Association, it will help emergence of new talents in this field," said Dr. Sangeeta Chauhan.

Mysuru Hair and Beauty Association President Uma Jadhav, Secretary B.D. Jyothi, Director Nandini and others were present at the press conference.
